

CONTRACT 156

T.F. Warner

Legal Description: NESW

Section 25 Township 10 South Range 17 East

This map is for informational and reference purposes only and may not have been prepared for, or be suitable for legal, engineering, or surveying purposes. Useres of this information should review or consult the primary data, and information sources to ascertain the usability of information.

Created: 8/2016

AGREEMENT

WELL DRAINAGE

TWIN FALLS CANAL COMPANY,
Party of the First Part.

Party of the Second Part.

Party of the Second Part.

Sec 25 Tp 105 R17E

Jan 15 1920

AGREEMENT

This Agreement, Made this 15 day of Jan 1926

party of the first part, and	party of the second part, witnesseth: Whereas, the following described land, to wit: NG. S. W. My NW. S. E. 205-10-17 in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our party Easy new., a drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of mumber of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Winess Whereof, the first party has ca	by and between the I WIN FALLS CANAL COMPANY, an Idaho corporation, party of the second part, witnesseth: Whereas, the following described land, to wit: NG. S. W. My N. S. E. 205-10-17 in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our party. Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party, to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	party of the second part, witnesseth: Whereas, the following described land, to wit: NG. S. W. My NW. S. E. 205-10-17 in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our party Easy new., a drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of mumber of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Winess Whereof, the first party has ca	party of the first part, and I, IT. Warner
in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of the premises, it is hereby agreed: Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party of the extent of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	Whereas, the following described land, to wit: ME · S. W. M. N. S. E. 205-10-17 in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our farmy and the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Winess Whereof, the first party has
in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of the premises, it is hereby agreed: Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledges any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	Whereas, the following described land, to wit: ME · S. W. M. N. S. E - 205 - 10 - 17 in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our farmy and the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Winess Whereof, the first party	party of the second part, witnesseth:
in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our farm language. A drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($1500) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our factory and the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($ 16-00) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year
in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our fary for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($16000) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our force of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or that the first party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year
in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our fary for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($16.00) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and, whereas, the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our force of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary	16.0.0. my 10.06- 25-10-17
the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our fary England, a drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of the party language. Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admit or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereo
the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of our fary England, a drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	the first party is about to bore one or more wells on or near said land under the direction of the party language. Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admit or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereo	in Twin Falls County, Idaho, is at present being injured by seepage; and whereas
direction of our barry Engineer, a drainage engineer, for the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party in the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	direction of one form the grant of the purpose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said seeped land; Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year
Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (I) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year	direction of our barre Essential a drainage engineer for the
Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{20^{-0}}$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed: (1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	pose of determining the effect of such wells in draining said second land.
(1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said engineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
gineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{2^{-00}}$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	gineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year	Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is hereby agreed:
gineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{2^{-00}}$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	gineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of the first party to the extent of the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set when hand the day and year	(1) That the first party may at its option and under the direction of said en-
character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\sumequiv \left(\sumequiv \l	character, and location to be designated by said engineer, that the first party shall have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{2^{-00}}$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	gineer bore one or more wells on or near said land, the number, size, depth, have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{6^{-00}}$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	have the right to enter on said lands and do and perform any and all things reasonably necessary in the judgment of said engineer in the furtherance of said work. (2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\frac{16^{-00}}{2^{-00}}\)) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
(2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\sumetimes 2000)$) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($ 1500) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
(2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\sum_{	(2) The cost of boring said wells shall in the first instance be borne by the first party; but, the second party agrees to reimburse the first party to the extent of ($\sum_{\cupselon} \sum_{\cupselon} \sum_{\c
($ 15-00) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	($ 16-00) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
($\sum_{0.00}($) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	($ 16-00) per acre for any and all lands drained, the number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer. (3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
(3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
(3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
ledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	ledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	number of acres, if any, to be determined by the said engineer.
any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	(3) It is understood that the first party does not in any wise admit or acknowwise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	ledge that the seepage hereinbefore referred to or any part thereof, is the result of a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	any neglect or other act or omission on the part of the first party, or that it is in any system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage. (4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	wise responsible for same, or that the first party in any wise admits or acknowledges
(4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	(4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	a liability on account of same, or liability or responsibility to install the said or any reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	system of drainage, or the right to second party to damage.
reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	reason of said well, the same shall be subject to the use of the first party for irrigation, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year	(4) It should be understood that should a flow of water be obtained by
tion, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way	tion, and second party will grant to the first party a free easement and right of way for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year for ditches or waterways necessary to said water to the place or places desired by first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set hand the day and year
, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	first party in order to utilize or dispose of same. In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set his hand the day and year
first party in order to utilize or dispose of same.	In Witness Whereof, the first party has caused the same to be executed by the hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set his hand the day and year
	hand of its secretary; and, the second party has set his hand the day and year
	HIST above written.	first above written.

TWIN FALLS CANAL COMPANY,

Otor N.E, 8W & N.W. SE Sec. 25-10-17 20% acres drained. Note - See Blue Brint for location of test holes Clest Hale 5-0 from surface no mud 4'-0" 4-6" To mud 0 17 # 3 4'-0". 4 11 3.8 4'8" 5 17 5' 2' 9" No mud 6 to mud 4' 6" .. 4' 5" n 3' 8" n u v to Shale mo mud 3 8 ".

{to mer than couled 4' 0 " This loud seems to be drowned and crops are growing on most of it. There are spots of alkali in the South-east part of NE4SW4 which I think can be worked It so that regitation well grow. 1200 ft. of 12 wich tile and 1585 feet of 8 mich tile has feen laid at a minimum depth of 6 ft.

Examined July 29-1920

T.F. Warner Drainage Contract No 156.

This contract was made January 15, 1920 for the NE_4^1 of the SW_4^1 and the NW_4^1 of the SE_7^4 of Section 25 19-17.

Work was commenced on the construction about Feb 10, 1920 and completed about Apr 20, 1920.

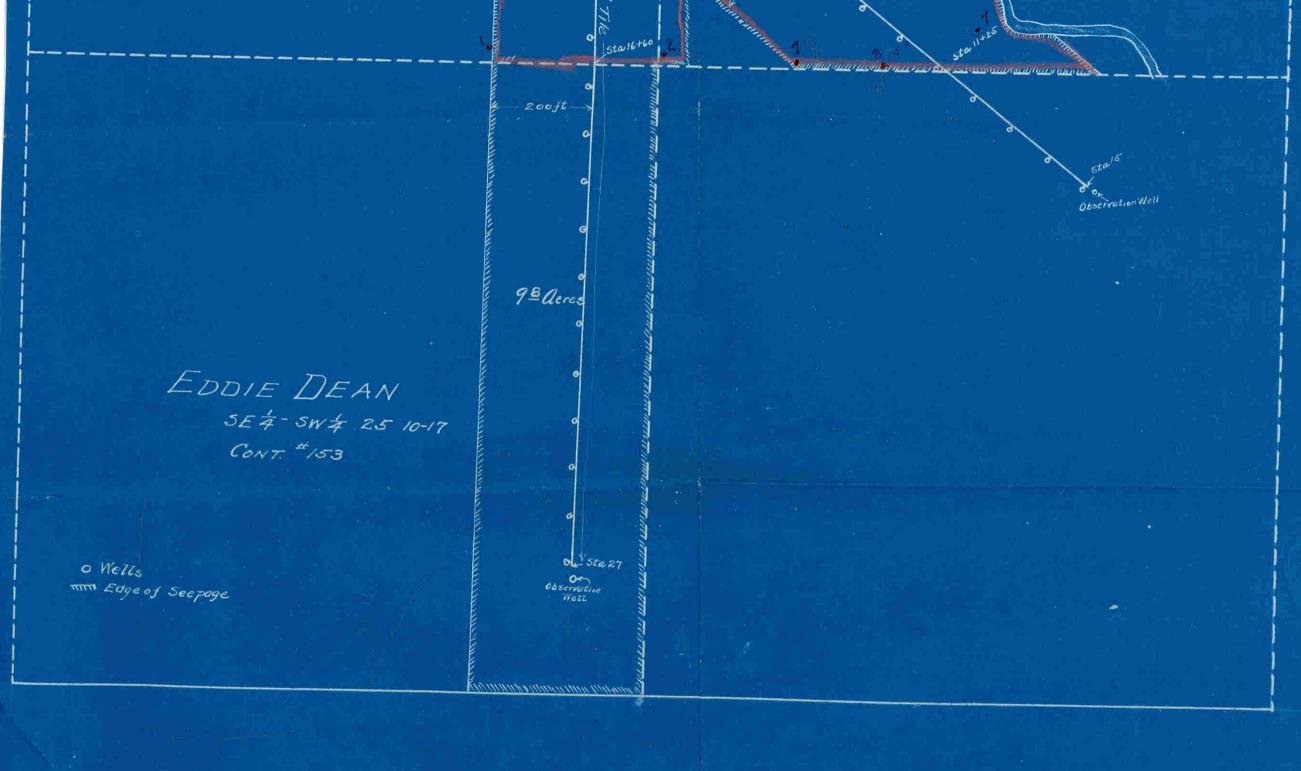

1200 feet of 12 inch tile was laid and 1585 feet of 8 inch tile at a minimum depth of 6 feet.

Between January 20th and Feb 5, 1920 28 wells were drilked, at an average depth of about 32 feet.

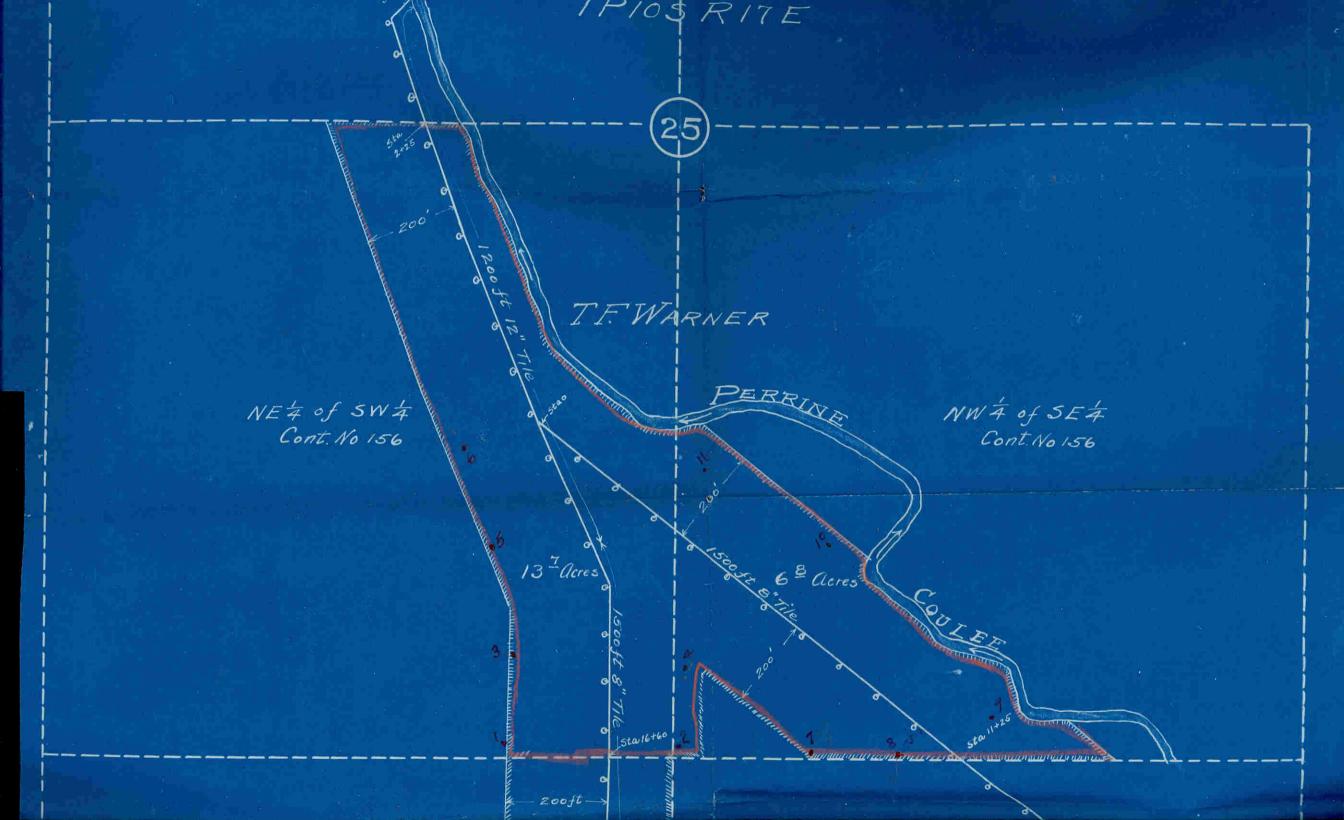

The total seeped area which is now reclaimed is $20\frac{1}{2}$ acres as shown bytx the area outlined by red pencil on the attached plat

May 28, 1920.

C.A. McClalland

FILENO: 4B-4252"

SPSHERMAN SEZOGNWZ

Tile Outlet.

TP105 R17E

25